

AOL Time Warner is a predatory, monopolistic corporation, which seeks to curtail writers' copyrights, boasts in its annual report about the synergies across their traditional and new media, and is more interested in enriching its coffers than discharging its responsibility as THE mass communications entity in the country -- in fact, the world. Don't let it get any bigger.